

Police Inspection Next Week.

The annual inspection of the police department is to be made later in the week or the first part of next week. It was Maj. Pullman's intention to have the inspection start tomorrow, but owing to the indisposition of Raymond B. Wytheville, Va.

Fosdick of the bureau of social hygiene, Rockefeller Foundation, who is to participate in it, a postponement has been deemed necessary.

Rev. Dr. Alexander Phillip, Lutheran minister and educator, died at Wytheville, Va.

OWNERS OF SEIZED WHEAT HAVE FILED NO PROTESTS

No protests have been received at the State Department today from American owners of wheat seized by the Canadian government.

Officials said it was doubtful whether any action could be taken should such complaints, which are expected, be received. Crops, it was explained, were considered to have a mercantile or business nationality. Crops in Canada, consequently, are considered Canadian property regardless of their ownership.

Precedent for this opinion is said to have been established during the Spanish-American war, when property in Cuba owned by an American citizen was held by the Supreme Court of the United States to have acquired an enemy character.

YOUNGEST PLEADER FOR RIGHT TO VOTE

Miss Emily Georgine Grimes, Six Years Old, in Ranks of Suffragists.

WILL SERVE AS MASCOT FOR ADULT ADVOCATES

Congressional Union Plans Elaborate Welcome to Envoys From Woman Voters of West.

Miss Emily Georgine Grimes, who reached the National Capital from her Detroit home a few days ago, is the youngest suffragist who, so far, has come out of the west to help push through the Susan B. Anthony amendment, the main purpose of the approaching convention of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage.

Though she is scarcely six years old, she is already an old campaigner. In the Michigan campaign, which was lost in spite of her best efforts at masochism, she distributed literature and once—just once—she stood in a window and turned the pages of a "voiceless" speech. The beauty of a voiceless speech is that you not only speak silently but with your back to your audience. The trouble was that in the middle of one remark a small boy in the crowd outside whistled. Emily looked around, beheld some two hundred people not listening to her speech at all but looking straight at her—and disappeared out of the window.

Emily's mother, Mrs. Lucia Grimes, is traveling with her. She works for suffrage, too.

IN WASHINGTON TO HELP WIN VOTES FOR WOMEN

EMILY GEORGINE GRIMES OF DETROIT, MICH.

Lucy Burns and Miss Anne Martin of Nevada.

Suffrage States Represented.

"Twelve more women on horseback will represent the twelve suffrage states. They will carry yellow banners, emblazoned with purple victory wreaths. They will act as escort to the two women envoys, riding in the automobile which has carried them across the continent from San Francisco. Behind the motor will come, on its gaily decorated truck, the woman's liberty bell, which was in Washington once before, at the time of President Wilson's inauguration, and which is to be rung when all women of this country have the vote."

The 300 guests, who will attend the President's reception at 2 o'clock the same afternoon, will form the next section of the parade, and thirty-seven of them will walk in advance, bearing blue pennants with a single white star, each representing one of the still "unfranchised" states. A motor section and another section of cavalry will complete the parade.

Heads of Sections.

The chairmen of the parade sections are: Mrs. Mary Kealy Clagett, actresses' section; Mrs. Paul Dessez, Army and Navy section; Miss Aileen Solomons, artists' section; Miss Bertha Dana, automobile section; Mrs. Minnie Brooke, business women section; Mrs. John Jay White, cavalry section; Mrs. Helena Hill Weed, college women section; Mrs. Court F. Wood, club women section; Mrs. M. K. McCarthy, department section; Mrs. Nevill M. Hopkins, District of Columbia section; Mrs. Delmar Smith, foreigners' section; Mrs. J. A. Breckons, state delegations; Mrs. Herman Gasch, writers' section.

At the head of the state delegations will be Mrs. Lulu Francis, Alabama; Miss Elsie Hill, Connecticut; Mrs. Charlotte Van Wyck; Miss Emily Stearns, Virginia; Miss Charlotte Johnson, West Virginia; Mrs. J. A. Breckons, Wyoming.

Miss Emma Waldo is chairman of the registration section.

Rev. James T. Williams, pastor of the Poolesville M. E. Church, died at Charles Town, W. Va.

William E. Moody of Chestertown, Md., died at his home there of heart failure, at the age of fifty-eight years. He retired from the clothing business several years ago.

ACCEPTS INVITATION ON STATED CONDITIONS

Terms Upon Which Mrs. A. G. Spencer Will Join Henry Ford's Peace Party.

Although an organized expression of strong public sentiment toward world peace has great value, any non-official group of people cannot take any radical steps to end the war, is the opinion expressed in a letter from Anna Garlin Spencer, vice president of the woman's peace party and member of the faculty of the Theological School at Meadville, Pa., to Henry Ford, originator of the idea of the "peace ship."

Prof. Spencer was invited by Mr. Ford to take the trip abroad on the ship, and has been announced as agreeing to go, but that she will accept the invitation only under what she considers certain vital qualifications is made plain in her letter. Prof. Spencer thinks such rapid work as is indicated in the slogan "Out of the trenches by Christmas day" is not suited to world issues.

Mrs. Spencer's Letter.

In her letter she says: "Deeply appreciating the honor of your generous invitation to be your guest on the peace expedition, I give you only a qualified acceptance, although I was erroneously announced as having already agreed to go. My original telegram to you was provisional only, as you will kindly recall, and the cordial appreciation expressed in that telegram was for the noble purpose of your plan."

"Since sending that telegram I find myself obliged to add that I cannot give you a qualified acceptance, since rapid work is not suited to world issues. Nor can I believe that a non-official group of people could take any radical steps to 'end the war,' although any organized expression of strong public sentiment toward peace has great value, and I believe with many that if our President could see his way to some initiative, it might prove of supreme benefit."

"I am not concerned about misrepresentation, ridicule or opposition. In the cause of peace one might well be willing to take chances as to reputation, influence in other matters or even life itself. I do not regret the haste and the premature publicity which have already handicapped the proposed trip."

Demands Experienced Leadership.

"I cannot conscientiously accept your invitation unless positively assured beforehand that at least a few men will know and actively regard us as peace advocates of experience and good judgment form the leadership of the expedition. As an officer of the woman's peace party I am deeply grateful for the confidence you show in the purposes of that organization, and the calling of a conference of neutral nations is a part of our program. We are also committed to trying to secure an unofficial conference of neutrals and peace workers provided no government sanction can be secured. It would therefore be a great disappointment if your proposed backing of our program should prove fruitless. Any gathering, however, whether official or non-official, in the interest of a speedy close of this war and the prevention of future wars should be preceded by careful private conference as to the personnel of those invited, plans of procedure in the United States and the securing of foreign assistance."

"I cannot too strongly express my regret that such preliminary steps were not taken before public and, as regards some items, inaccurate statements were made to the effect that the expedition was to be a purely private conference of neutrals and peace workers. I am compelled, however, to speak thus plainly in so important a matter, although assuring you of my profound appreciation of your interest in the cause of peace. My final answer waits for further information."

TO AID HOLIDAY PLANS OF THE SANTA CLAUS GIRL

Theater Tickets Purchased of Her Will Increase the Fund for Poor Children.

Persons who may wish to contribute to the holiday work done on behalf of poor children by the Santa Claus Girl, 70 Seaton place northwest, and who also are fond of the theater, may gratify both desires by purchasing, through her, tickets for the evening of Tuesday, December 14, for the play, "Too Many Cooks," at the Polk's Theater.

Arrangements made with this playhouse by the Santa Claus Girl will result in her retaining a generous proportion of the price of the tickets with which to purchase and mail toys to Washington children who otherwise would get nothing to bring them joy Christmas day, each name being furnished by her co-workers being carefully investigated by herself or her volunteer assistants as to the real neediness of the case.

Will Add to Doll Supply.

With the money thus gained she can add to the store of dolls and other toys, stamps, ribbon and other materials which are being sent her by those who want every childish heart to be happy on that particular day of the year.

Communications addressed to the "Santa Claus Girl, 70 Seaton place northwest," and including the price of the class of seat the prospective theatergoer prefers will result in the transmission of a coupon which, presented at Polk's, may be exchanged for a seat or, if preferred, the Santa Claus Girl will make the exchange herself and send the purchaser the regular ticket.
